Placing goods on the market from 1st January 2021

New Approach

Goods with a CE-marking may be placed on the UK market until 1 January 2022 e.g. Toys, PPE, machinery.

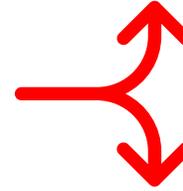

It is longer in some cases e.g. medical devices

Old Approach

Changes to existing standalone regulation models depend on specific goods.

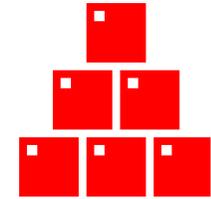

e.g. Chemicals, Vehicles, Aerospace

Non-Harmonised Goods

Mutual recognition will no longer apply to non-harmonised goods in GB.

e.g. Furniture

Other Goods

There are special rules for some goods including medical devices, cosmetics, construction products, civil explosives, and products requiring eco-design and energy labelling.

This presentation will focus on most new approach goods.
Sector specific guidance can be found on gov.uk/transition

Placing New Approach goods on the market

If you have already placed CE marked goods on the EU or UK markets before 1 January 2021, you do not need to take any action for those goods. Placing on the market refers to individual goods, not types of goods.

Placing CE marked goods on the GB market

- Businesses should take steps to prepare for the upcoming changes to the domestic regime at the earliest opportunity.
- CE marked goods that meet EU requirements can continue to be placed on the GB market in most cases until 1 January 2022.

Placing CE marked goods on the EU market

- If you are placing manufactured goods on the EU market you must take steps to ensure compliance with EU requirements by 1 January 2021.

Ensure New Approach goods are labelled correctly

- If you self-certify or use an EU Notified Body, you can still use the CE marking until 1 January 2022 for goods placed on the GB market (more in some cases). In this case, you can use your EU Declaration of Conformity until 1 January 2022.
- The CE marking will still be required for products placed on the EU market.
- You can place the UKCA and CE marking on the same product if it is destined for both the GB and EU markets so long as the product meets the rules for both markets.

- From 1 January 2021 New Approach goods assessed against GB rules by a GB 'Approved Body' will need the UKCA marking. In this case, you will need to use a UK Declaration of Conformity.
- If you currently self-certify for the CE mark, you can also do so for the UKCA mark.
- From 1 January 2021 the essential requirements and standards that can be used to demonstrate compliance to the UKCA marking will be the same as they are now for the CE marking.

Timeline for UKCA

From 1st January 2021

You can use the UKCA marking. In some cases, it will need to apply immediately. If so, you should get ready to use it before this date.

Until 1st January 2023

For most goods, you can affix the UKCA marking on a label affixed to the product or on an accompanying document.

From 1st January 2022

You will need to use UKCA for most goods* from 1st January 2022.

From 1st January 2023

The UKCA marking must, in most cases, be affixed directly to your product.

* The CE marking will continue to be recognised in GB until 30 June 2023 for medical devices. Make sure you consult the sector specific guidance.

Changes to conformity assessment bodies for New Approach goods

GB market

All UK-based 'Notified Bodies' will automatically become UK 'Approved Bodies' from 1 January 2021. You can find details of UK bodies on the EU NANDO database or the UKAS website.

If your product requires third-party conformity assessment this will need to be done by a UK-recognised body from 1 January 2022 (in most cases).

EU market

From 1 January 2021 mandatory conformity assessments by UK bodies will no longer be recognised in the EU (unless agreed in negotiations). You should speak to your existing conformity assessment body to discuss options.

Take action to ensure products are market compliant

What does my business need to do now?

If you plan to place goods on both the UK and EU market, you should start preparing now:

Contact your notified bodies as soon as possible to understand your options for conformity assessments for the UK and EU markets.

Arrange for separate certificates for the UK and EU markets to be ready well in advance of 1 January 2022. There may be a requirement for a level of re-assessment before the second certificate is issued so you should start planning as soon as possible.

Check your legal responsibilities for New Approach goods

Will my responsibilities change?

The responsibilities of 'economic operators' who deal with CE or UKCA marked goods will change from 1 January 2021. Economic operators include manufacturers, importers, distributors and authorised representatives.

Importers - A UK-based distributor of EU goods may become an 'importer' – and vice-versa. Compared to distributors, importers have a stronger duty to ensure products are compliant and often must ensure their address is on a product.

Authorised Representatives - must be based in GB or NI for the GB market. GB-based Authorised Representatives will no longer be recognised in EU. EU legislation coming into force on 16 July 2021 means you may need to appoint an EU representative if there is no other economic operator in place.

Other regulatory regimes

Placing Old Approach goods on the GB market

Equivalent UK regulatory frameworks will be in place for most goods covered under the current 'old approach'. Some goods with EU product approvals will be subject to light-touch additional requirements. Your business may also need to appoint new UK representatives.

Chemicals: The UK will have its own REACH regime post exit. For EU companies exporting to UK, you will need a 'UK Only Representative' to register chemicals under UK REACH, or your downstream customer in the UK will need to register.

Aerospace: The UK's Civil Aviation Authority currently oversees most aspects of civil aviation safety in the UK and will take on some additional functions from EASA after the transition period. The CAA will continue to recognise EASA approvals in effect on 31 December 2020 for a period of two years unless they expire sooner.

Automotive: EC type approvals will no longer be automatically accepted for motor vehicles on the GB market. The UK Vehicle Certification Agency (VCA) will issue provisional GB type approvals.

Medicines: Medicines with a "centralised" European Medicines Agency authorisation will be given a UK authorisation unless companies opt out.

Check the rules for placing goods on the NI market

The Ireland/Northern Ireland Protocol comes into force from 1 January 2021. For as long as it applies, goods placed on the market in NI will need to meet relevant EU rules.

The CE marking will continue to be the relevant marking for most goods. If you self-certify for CE, you can continue to do this when placing goods on the NI market.

The CE marking will need to be accompanied by the UKNI marking if you use a UK Notified Body to assess against EU rules. This will be the case from 1st January 2021, and it also applies to existing stock that is not already placed on the market by the end of the TP, which has been assessed against the CE marking by a UK Notified Body. Goods with the 'CE UKNI' marking are not valid for the EU market.

You never apply the UKNI marking on its own. It always accompanies the relevant EU conformity marking.

If you use an EU Notified Body, you will only need to use the CE marking.

UKCA alone will not be valid for the NI market.
